

Chapter 3: Mountain Stillness

79th Day

March 19th

Unlimited Being

When you become detached
You are not limited
To this world and this body
With its senses and enjoyments.

You are not limited to enlightenment
To any meditation or prayer;
Or even to what you call God.

Clinging to nothing
You remain free and flowing.
The freer you become
The nearer you come to yourself.

Becoming completely free
You are no longer limited
To your own energy.

You begin to hear the truth
And the truth will set you free
To experience the Tao.

Commentary:

After being detached you are no longer limited with your senses in time and space. You are not limited in enlightenment, any meditation, prayer or god. Being detached you become free and flowing, able to get back to yourself. By being completely free you are not limited to your own energy and can connect with the universal forces. In this state, the truth will be revealed to you and you are free to experience the Tao.
